DETAILED ACTION

This action is in response to Applicant's amendment filed January 25, 2007. Claims 1-20 are pending in the present application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over USPN 6,836,786 issued to Zoller et al. in view of US 2003/0217166 to Dal Canto et al.

Regarding claim 1, Zoller teaches a method for presenting a merged view of remotely installed applications to which a user has terminal server (TS) based access, the method comprising:

generating, by a client computing device, one or more shortcuts to one or more respective applications, each of the applications being installed at one or more installation points in an Intranet, the client computing device being external to the Intranet (col. 1, lines 44-61).

However, Zoller does not explicitly teach wherein the one or more shortcuts are aggregated to present a merged view of the applications, the merged view being transparent of whether the applications are managed by different information sources on the Intranet and/or configured for remote TS-based execution by different ones of multiple installation points.

In an analogous art, Dal Canto teaches aggregating one or more shortcuts to present a merged view of the applications (figure 2), the merged view being transparent of whether the applications are managed by different information sources on the Intranet and/or configured for remote TS-based execution by different ones of multiple installation points (paragraph 51). At the time the invention was made, one of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to enable the merged view to be transparent of whether the applications are managed by different information sources or configured for remote TS-based execution by different ones of multiple installation points in order to enhance security [0054].

Regarding claim 2, Zoller teaches a method as recite in claim 1, wherein the one or more information sources comprise a directory service, a Systems Management Server, and/or a personal office computer associated with the user (figure 7).

Regarding claim 3, Zoller teaches a method as recite in claim 1, wherein the one or more installation points comprise one or more servers and/or office computers associated with the user (figure 7).

Regarding claim 4, Zoller teaches a method as recite in claim 1, wherein the shortcuts are presented in a desktop of the user (figure 5).

Regarding claim 5, Zoller teaches a method as recite in claim 1, wherein the shortcuts are presented in an Internet browser window associated with a Web service providing remote application discovery, the Web service being deployed on a Web server in the Intranet and accessible by the client computing device over a public network (figures 5 and 7).

Claims 6-10 are similar to claims 1-5, respectively, therefore are rejected under the same rationale.

Claims 11-15 are similar to claims 1-5, respectively, therefore are rejected under the same rationale.

Claims 16-20 are similar to claims 1-5, respectively, therefore are rejected under the same rationale.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
